STATE OF WASHINGTON
OFFICE OF INSURANCE COMMISSIONER

In the Matter of: JOHN HANLEY d/b/a JURISCO, Licensee.	NO. D 07-0350 STIPULATION TO CONTINUE HEARING

Washington's Office of the Insurance Commissioner ("OIC") and John Hanley stipulate to continue the hearing on the OIC's Order Revoking License for approximately 30-days. Thus, the hearing scheduled to reconvene on September 23, 2009 will be continued to October 26, 2009 – if necessary, and will continue on consecutive days, Monday through Thursday, until complete.

After Mr. Hanley voluntarily agreed to relinquish his license, counsel for Mr. Hanley met with Legal Affairs Deputy Insurance Commissioner Carol Sureau and the undersigned OIC staff at the OIC offices in Tumwater on September 9, 2009, and also had a follow-up telephone call on September 18, 2009. During these discussions, the parties expressed an interest and willingness in meeting outside the hearing setting to discuss Mr. Hanley's position as to bond amounts allegedly owed. The parties also discussed the outlines of an agreement they wish further time to pursue and document.

Since Mr. Hanley has already agreed to a voluntary relinquishment of his license, and the parties are willing to meet to try to resolve any remaining disputes, the OIC and Mr. Hanley jointly move for a continuance as outlined above.

The parties believe the resources of the OIC and Mr. Hanley can be preserved and OIC's role of protecting the public and the integrity of insurance will be furthered by continuing the hearing.
