

RE: Washington License #170213

Dear Sirs,

I believe that I should be able to keep my Washington Insurance License. I currently have a clean record with the State of Washington. I am living in Washington most of the time and want to apply for a resident Washington Insurance License.

The Idaho Court had expired under that statue of limitations. I could have asked for a continuance of the Idaho Insurance Hearing, but another attorney wanted $7,000 more to represent me. So, I let my Idaho License terminate. The Idaho Insurance Department said that I could reapply for my license in one year. I am sure that they would not allow me to reapply for my license, if they felt that I was that horrible of an agent.

Due to the above listed reasons that have been stated above. I am therefore asking for a hearing, so I can keep my Washington License.

Sincerely,
