That's a hug increase. I have had no claims and whe with my insurance company they said the increase was due to no longer using creasers to underwrite. I understand using scores may not be fair to everyone but a my 32% increase. There has to be a be to create equality. I have worked very hoften did without to pay my bills timely to good credit score and now feel like "what for". Please permanently resend this and up with something better. Thank you.
